THE NEWS.

The intelligence which we lay before our readers this morning is four days' later than. previous advices. From all indications is ould appear that the Confederates, so far from being crushed by their recent disasters have been inspired with renewed vitality. They have again rushed into conflict with Sheridan in the Shenandoan, but although this time under a more redoubtable com-mander than Early-Gen. Longstrect-and with reinforcements, they are still unable to make headway against the impetuous mands the Federal forces in the Valley. The result of the recent oper ations near Strasburg, which lasted, some intermission, from the 12th to the 15th inclusive, shows a Confederate retreat.

genius of Lee makes the stride sometimes wavering, and often short of the first insent sail when it is made it it first for there is one peculiarity above all others about the formander, and that is he never regreate. If he obtains possession of a foot of ground of strategies all when it is he never regreate. If he obtains possession of a foot of ground of strategies all whe he always manages to hold it. As the has done without by the delay of roads—grasping positions and retaining them despite all the efforts of the enemy to retake the lost ground. Our most exciting news comes from Sherman. On his long line of communication the Confederates are operating with considerable vigor. Dalton and Resaca, which cost Sherman so much hard fighting to take in the first place, have been recaptured by the Confederates; but ns Rome, which was taken by Hood's troops a few days previous was evacuated, so Dalton and Resaca were only temporarily held. It is easy enough for the Confederates in Georgia to break Sherman's communications, but the injury to Sherman's communications, but the injury to Sherman is scarcely compensated by the risk to Hood; for while the Federal General has been for weeks, in anticipation of these raids. provisioning Chattanooga and Atlanta, so that the destruction of his lines of supplies would be but small evil, Hood places himself between two fires, and may at any time have his retreat cut off. He is now said to be at the Tennessee river on his march into so near the Southside Railroad that they can Tennessee State, with Sherman's troops in his rear. The Confederate commander in Tennessee would be no doubt a very practical offset to Sherman in Georgia, but there is this difference in the positions of the two generals-while Sherman is sale in the heart of Georgia with no army vigorous enough to retard very much his progress or interfere with his retreat, Hood the moment he enters Tennessee will have to encounter Federa forces in advantageous positions-strongly defended and well supplied-with the uncomfortable feeling that a powerful army i coming upon his rear. We can scarcely think the Confederate commander will be so foolhardy; for if he penetrates any dis-

Missouri still less may it be expected to take place in the Far West. The political news is more definite, and more important than the previous intelligence. Maryland-that essentially slavery-loving State-has given a majority for the new Constitution, which abolishes the right to hold property in man." Pennsylvania. most uncompromising Democratic State, and on whose political action the result of the Presidency has many times hung, has, according to a telegram from Horace Greely to Mr. Carpentier of the California Telegraph Company, given a majority in favor of Union party. This is most significant for the ensuing contest, and gives us an indication that the Democratic opposition to Lincoln will be comparatively meagre. So important was the action of Pennsylvania considered by even the California politicians that the greatest excitement prevailed when a telegram was published announcing that the State had gone "Democratic." The latest telegram, however, gives a small Union victory.

Price Leaves Missouri for Kansas

Matters in front are without material change

The Herald's Fifth Corps correspondent says the total loss in that corps in the Poplar Grove fight was 2,031, of whom 1,512 are missing. General Butler, becoming convinced that General Butler, becoming convinced that our roger soldiers are put to work in the rebel entrenchments, has notified the rebel authorities that he has also put rebel officers and soldiers at work on the Dutch Gap canal. He has also proposed an exchange of naval prisoners, and transmitted statements of our officers that the colored troops had been murdered after capture by rebel regiments in front of the army of the James.

in disposal, and having satisfactorily accom-plished his design, he returned to camp. So soon as the troops commenced to withdraw, the rebels sailed forth and attacked them, but were severely repulsed, their dead and wounded thickly strewing the ground. After that our force was allowed to return unmosted. Our loss in killed, wounded and miss ing is about 400. The enemy suffered to an equal extent.

A portion of the Army of the Potomac are hear the trains pass this morning.

FORTRESS MORROE, October 16.—General Butler sent out a reconnoissance to the north side of James river yesterday which advanced 2½ in iles—towards Richmond. It returned without loss. It met several squads of rebels, but only some slight skirmishing took place. The Federal General Asboth's expedition into Florida resulted in his capturing ninety prisoners, 300 negroes, 400 mules, and a large amount of stores and ammunition.

FROM SHERMAN. Washington, Oct. 17.—Advices from Sher nan to the evening of the 16th, indicate tha Hood, after striking at the railroad in the heighborhood of Palton and Resaos, has allen back before Sherman, without fight ing, abandoning his great movement upon the line of communications. He has torn up fifteen miles of railroad from Resaca north, which injury can be repaired without diffi-culty. The interruption will cause no in-convenience to Sherman's army, as his stores of supplies south of the break, as well as north, are ample. Hood retreated towards the southwest, his rear leaving Dalton in haste at 6 o'clock on Sunday morning.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 .- A Chattanooga despatch of last evening says that Hood's main force was about Lafayette on Sunday afternoon, and Sherman was at Ship's Gap.

Another official despatch, dated Chattaoga yesterday, says that Sherman was at hip's Gap, in Taylor's Ridge, at dark last ight. The General and army are all right out in good spirits. Hood will not fight, heugh offerd repeatedly; his repulse at Alatoona has made him very cautious.

If Hood invides Tennessee, as he has romised his followers, he will lose in deserion twice as many as he has captured. The Another official despatch, dated Chatta-

The last information is that Hood, with a body of troops, was at Ship's Gap, fifteen miles southwest of Dalton, this saide of the Teneessee River, matching in the direction of the river—a portion of Sherman's army hotly pursuing. Washington, Oct. 17—sheridan reports the rebel army lately under Early, but now apparently under Longstreet, as having appeared in the vicinity of Strasburg. His forces moved to attack them on Saturday. Crook, who had the advance, found the rebels drawn up in four lines of battle, but soon charging them with his accustomed impetuosity, they broke and withdrew in considerable disorder, without giving an opportunity for any serious conflet. Sheridan reports them as continuing their retreat in haste, far them as continuing their retreat in haste, far up the valley. STANTON. (Signed)

(Signed) STANION.

New York, Oct. 17—The Herald's correspondent, writing in regard to the aflair of last Wednesday, says: Early in the morning the rebels appeared on our front in the woods and along the hills south of Cedar Creek. Shortly after they opened a heavy artillery fire from a position on the Strauburg pike, directing it at the front of the Nineteenth Carras and advanced fire on the first distribution. Corps, and a diagonal fire on the first division of Gen. Brooks' Army of Western Virginia, of Gen. Brooks' Army of Western Virginia, which occupied a position in a piece of woods at the base of the north point of Mas amuthin Mountain. On our extreme left the fire of the eneuty was rapid, shot and shell failing directly into the camp of General Brooks' first division, which caused them to retire a little to the rear. Our artillery under its chief, Capt. Dupont, was brought up and stationed on the bills in front of our position, when it commenced a lively reply to the enemy, causing him, after a brick oannouade to retire with his guns. The First Brigade of the First Division, commanded by Colonel Wells, of the Thirty fourth Massachusetts, moving on the left of the turnpike, were both engaged during the entire affair, and although charged by the enemy repeatedly, they stood their ground nobly. It became apparent as the firing was going on, that the demonstration on our left was for the purpose of covering another movement, which subsequently appeared to be an attempt to turn our position by flanking. Our infantry front was changed so as to confront the robel route of march, by the order of General Sheridan, who was in a position that covered the entire operations. HOOD TAKES DALTON & RESACA!

New York, October 15.—The Tribuns's Army of the James special despatch of the 11th says:—Our gunboats and shore battery to-day succeeded in silencing a rebel battery on the south side of James river, with which they had recently been able to throw shells into Dutch Gap and among working parties. The work on the canal is rapidly approaching completion, and promises to prove a success.

FROM THE WEST.

FROM THE WEST.

St. Louis, Oct. 18—General Fiske, with three regiments of twelve months men and four pieces of artillery attempted to ascend the Missouri river in transports, early last week, and when within ten miles of Booneville, he encountered a rebel battery on the south back of the river, and was compelled to return. Since then the general has been credered to the field, destination unknown.

Price's army at hist accounts was marching towards Kansas. He probably has catered that State by this time. Their advance which is supposed to be under Pagan, reach-and of the war than he does, but that it is not in his power, or theirs, to bring it about. He says that the recognition of the sovereighty of the States is the only solution of the trouble. The idea of maintaining the old Union, or any Union, by force, is preposterous, and the subjugation of the South by the North would involve the destruction of the Constitution and the overthrow of their liberties as well as ours. Any peace growing out of the union of States established by force, would be as ruinous to them as to us. The action of the Chieago Convention, as far as its platform of principles gons, points a ray of light which under Providence, may prove the dawn of the day to this long may prove the dawn of the day to this long cheerless night. To a convention of States to adjust our difficulties, he has no objection.

New York, Oct. 17—A Washington special to the Tribune says the majority for the new Maryland Constitution is about five hundred. Voorlies of Indians has been reelected by less than one hundred votes; but the gross illegality of the election is to be contested, which it is believed will alter the result.
